If the quotation of a particular benchmark rate for the definition of the regular contracted interest rate (ZIBOR, EURIBOR, USD LIBOR, etc.) by Thomson Reuters is not available for the interest calculation period under the Factoring Contract or if such service ceases to exist, the Factor shall apply the benchmark market interest rate for HRK for the same period of calculation of the regular contracted interest rate available at Thomson Reuters and thus determine the regular contracted interest rate under the Factoring Contract. If not even such interest rate is available, the Factor shall apply the arithmetic mean (rounded to four decimal places) of interest rates for borrowing deposits in HRK for a term corresponding to the interest calculation period under this Factoring Contract quoted to the Factor by three leading commercial banks of the Factor's choice which are active on the Croatian interbank market, and the Factor shall determine the thus defined regular contracted interest rates and inform the Clients thereon within an adequate term and calculate the regular contracted interest amount for the accounting period according to the Factoring Contract;
- 1.46. Benchmark interest rate floor in the calculation of the regular contracted interest rate (Zero Floor clause): if the calculated benchmark interest rate in the calculation of the regular contracted interest rate is less than 0.00 % (zero percent), then the benchmark interest rate of 0.00 % (zero percent) shall apply for the calculation of the regular contracted interest rate;
- 1.47. ZIBOR (eng. Zagreb Interbank Offered Rate) is the benchmark interest rate in the calculation of the regular contracted interest rate for the currency Croatian Kuna (HRK) on the Croatian interbank market. ZIBOR is officially calculated based on the calculation of the mean values of interest rates quoted by eight biggest Croatian banks at Thomson Reuters. - 1.48. EURIBOR (eng. The Factoring Facility can be granted and contracted either in the absolute amount or with regard to the advance amount for the financing of the factored receivable in such way that the Factoring Facility shall not exceed the amount of the advance percentage for the financing of the Factored receivables multiplied by the amount of Buyer Factoring Limits granted (for all Buyers) – depending on which of the above options was contracted by the Factoring Contract;

In the event that a third reason for the Buyer's default exists besides any or all of these reasons or in the event that these reasons do not exist, but there is a third reason/s of the Buyer's default, this shall not be considered credit risk.

 - 2.1.7. shall not be based on fictitious and or pro-forma invoices,
 - 2.1.8. shall not include receivables from Buyers where the Buyer can put forward set-off claims or other counterclaims or refund rights,

III. ASSIGNMENT OF RECEIVABLES

- 3.1. The assignment of all receivables (global assignment) shall be considered completed with the execution of the Factoring Contract, by which all of the Supplier's receivables from the Buyer for which factoring had been contracted are transferred onto the Factor, while the transfer of future receivables shall produce legal effects when such receivables are created.
- 3.2. Assignment shall encompass the entire receivable/receivables (principal receivable, contracted, non-due and unpaid interest, either contracted or default interest) and all amounts owed, as well as all ancillary and dependent rights and rights to put forward claims related thereto, and neither the Supplier nor the Buyer may in any way reduce or restrict the amount and/or value and/or recoverability of the assigned receivables or pertaining collaterals or any and all ancillary and dependent rights without the Factor's explicit consent.
- 3.3. By the assignment of the receivable, all contracted collaterals for receivables from the respective delivery of goods/services shall also transfer to the Factor besides ancillary rights, in particular rights arising from issued securities of the Buyer and any other collaterals delivered and/or made available by the Seller to the Buyer, regardless of whether such collaterals were contracted or not.
- 3.4. Without prejudice to global assignment, the assignment of receivables based on the Contract shall represent ordinary/regular assignment by its nature.

IV. TYPES OF OPERATIONS

- 4.1. Types of operations which can be agreed by the Factor and the Buyer or Supplier and which are subject to these General Terms & Conditions:
 - 4.1.1. Factoring
- 4.2. Factoring is a legal transaction where the Supplier assigns the factored receivable to the Factor based on and according to the Contract regulating the provision of one or several services indicated herein by the Factor to the Supplier: finance, collection of receivables, credit risk insurance, administration and reporting, all subject to the Supplier's obligation to pay Fees and Interest.
- 4.3. The Parties can agree by the Factoring Contract or a separate written agreement that all or any fees are borne by a third party.

V. SERVICES OF THE FACTOR

- 5.1. Depending on how it is defined and agreed by the Factoring Contract, the Factor can provide any or all of the services indicated below:
 - 5.1.1. financing,
 - 5.1.2. collection of receivables,

- 5.1.3. credit risk insurance,
- 5.1.4. administration and reporting.
- 5.2. Financing implies a service which can be part of the Factoring Contract, where the Factor, subject to the satisfaction of all required conditions, pays to the Supplier an advance in the amount of the percentage of the financed factored receivable as defined by the Factoring Contract. The receivable is financed as soon as the Factor has paid a part of the receivable amount to the Supplier.
- 5.3. Collection of receivables implies a service provided by the Factor where the Factor takes over from the Supplier the obligation to collect receivables from the Buyer by taking care of the maturity of invoices and applying standard procedures related to the process of debt collection (written correspondence and telephone calls and buyer notification, sending dun letters, etc.).
- 5.4. Credit risk insurance is a service provided by the Factor in non-recourse factoring, where the Factor takes over, in its own right or by way of a third party, the Buyer default risk, but only if the Buyer's default is the result of the Buyer's insolvency and/or illiquidity and/or bankruptcy. However, if there is any third reason for the Buyer's default besides any or all of these reasons or if these reasons do not exist, but there is any third reason/reasons for the Buyer's default, then the Buyer default risk is borne by the Supplier.
- 5.5. Administration and reporting implies a service provided by the Factor where the Factor performs the service of supervision and reconciliation of the balance sheet of the Buyer and the Supplier and informs the Supplier and the Buyer thereon.

VI. FINANCING

- 6.1. As one of the possible services in the Contract, financing can be agreed with:
 - 6.1.1. domestic non-recourse factoring without credit insurance,
 - 6.1.2. domestic non-recourse factoring with credit insurance,
 - 6.1.3. domestic recourse factoring,
 - 6.1.4. international non-recourse factoring with credit insurance (without a Foreign Import Factor),
 - 6.1.5. international non-recourse factoring with Foreign Import Factor.
- 6.2. The Factor can, at its own discretion, pay to the Supplier contracted amounts for each individual amount receivable or for the sum of receivables.
- 6.3. Where a financing service is agreed, the fact that the Facility is renewed according to the revolving principle implies that, when individual receivables are no longer part of the Facility after they have been paid as agreed and all of the Factor's claims in connection with such receivables have been settled, the Supplier may, subject to satisfaction of all other required conditions, use the non-committed amount of the Facility to finance further factored receivables, however again up to the Facility amount.
- 6.4. When the Parties have agreed the financing of the factored receivable with advance interest collection, the Factor may, subject to the satisfaction of all required conditions, pay to the Supplier the contracted advance reduced by the
 - 6.4.1. Advance interest amount
 - 6.4.2. factoring fee
 - 6.4.3. administration fee and all other costs.
- 6.5. When the Parties have agreed the financing of the factored receivable with end-of-period interest collection, then the factoring interest is calculated monthly during the financing term and charged upon maturity or collection of the factored receivable, depending on what is agreed, and the Factor may, subject to the satisfaction of all required conditions, pay to the Supplier the contracted advance reduced by the
 - 6.5.1. factoring fee
 - 6.5.2. administration fee and all other costs.
- 6.6. When the Parties have agreed the financing of the factored receivable with monthly interest collection, then the factoring interest is calculated monthly during the financing term and charged monthly and the Factor may, subject to the satisfaction of all required conditions, pay to the Supplier the contracted advance reduced by the
 - 6.6.1. factoring fee
 - 6.6.2. administration fee and all other costs.
- 6.7. When credit risk insurance has been agreed together with the financing service, the Factor may provide finance up to the percentage of receivables that is covered by credit risk insurance.
- 6.8. The collected amount of the factored receivable, which may be reduced by the discount or other expense by the Buyer or third parties, shall be first used by the Factor to settle its own receivables (advance, interest fee etc.) and the remaining amount shall be paid to the Supplier's account.
- 6.9. If the Supplier has issued to the Buyer a "credit note" (the Supplier's statement to the Buyer confirming that the Buyer does not owe the entire invoiced amount but a certain reduced part thereof) for an invoice or any other basis for the purchase of receivables, the Supplier shall deliver/assign to the Factor the issued "credit note" and the Factor shall reduce its advance payment to the Supplier by the „credit note" amount. If the „credit note" is issued after the payment of advance or retention, and the amount on which the „credit note" is issued exceeds the amount of the advance and/or retention, the Supplier shall promptly and without delay remunerate the resulting difference to the Factor at the Factor's first call.
- 6.10. If the Buyer and/or any third party should for any reason subsequently (after the Factor has accepted the specification and/or after advance has already been paid) put forward any payment claims or other claims related to the delivery of goods/services in connection with material or legal faults of delivered goods/service and/or existence of third party claims and/or for any other reason that threatens or may threaten and/or complicate the collection of the assigned receivables, the Factor shall be authorised to collect and/or insure the contested amount pursuant to provisions of the Contract.

- 6.11. If persons referred to in the above paragraph should settle the contested receivable related to the faults indicated or if such receivable has already been settled but the persons referred to in the above paragraph waive the rights/reasons described in the above paragraph validly and to the Factor's satisfaction, the Factor may decide not to exercise permanently or temporarily its right to collect and/or secure the contested amount pursuant to provisions of the Contract.
- 6.12. The Factor shall perform payments to the Supplier's business account specified in the Factoring Contract and held with the Factor or as otherwise instructed by the Supplier, provided that the Supplier is not subject to a particular proceeding (bankruptcy, pre-bankruptcy, liquidation...) obstructing payments to another account and/or rendering such payment risky in any way, in the Factor's judgement, or as the case may be subject to the condition that no provision of any law or regulation obstructs payment to another account or, as the case may be, that the Supplier is not blocked and/or subject to an interim and/or preliminary measure and/or any other compulsory measure issued by a competent body and/or court and prohibiting and/or preventing payment to the account of another entity and/or defining to which account the Factor is obligated to pay the above funds.
- 6.13. After cumulative fulfilment of the conditions that:
- 6.13.1. the Contract is duly executed and effective between the Parties,
 - 6.13.2. the Factor has received a duly completed Specification with required attachments,
 - 6.13.3. the Factor has accepted the Specification and receivables therein (the acceptance may be in writing or only the performance of payment based on certain invoices),
 - 6.13.4. financing from the Facility is possible as there are currently non-committed (approved and not drawn) funds,
 - 6.13.5. there are no circumstances that would render the Specification, at the Factor's sole discretion, inconsistent with the provisions of a contract made by and between the Supplier and the Buyer; the commercial business cooperation contract, the contract on the delivery of goods and/or services and/or another contract based on which the Supplier delivers to the Buyer goods or/services giving rise to the receivables that have been assigned to the Factor, and all conditions from the contract between the Buyer and the Supplier are fulfilled,
 - 6.13.6. the Factor has no information and/or reasonable doubt as to the validity, authenticity or transferability of receivables (e.g. cases of non-delivery or late delivery of goods/services),
 - 6.13.7. all other required conditions from the Contract have been satisfied,
- then the Factor can finance the receivable in accordance with the amount of the approved Facility.
- 6.14. In the event that the Factor is for any reason (excess of the limit approved by the Facility Contract etc.) unable to finance the Supplier's receivable because the prerequisites for this do not exist, the Factor shall forthwith notify the Supplier thereon. The Supplier agrees expressly and without the need for any specific approval that the Factor, in the event described above, charges the factoring fee forthwith upon receipt of the Specification.
- 6.15. If the Factor does not finance and insure individual receivables at a particular time, such receivables are also assigned to the Factor and shall be financed and insured when funds become available in the Facility, subject to fulfilment of all other prescribed conditions. The Factor can also always finance only a part of the receivables offered.

VII. LATE PAYMENT, INTEREST/DEFAULT INTEREST, RECOURSE

- 7.1. The Factor calculates and charges default interest (unless explicitly agreed otherwise in writing) for all days of default on any payment obligation, from the due date of any and all of the Factor's receivables to the date of proper and complete performance of the obligation with all related amounts receivable and expenses.
- 7.2. In events where the Buyer initiates a court or another proceeding and/or refuses payment and/or pleads set-off or any third party claims retention of title and/or the Buyer puts forward complaints with regard to the goods or services and/or any of the warranties under the Contract has been breached and/or reduced and/or the Buyer has not or has not either completely or partly paid the due receivables amount, the Supplier shall forthwith and without delay upon occurrence of any of such circumstances deliver written notice thereon to the Factor.
- 7.3. In the event that the Supplier fails to inform the Factor or fails to do so in due time as stipulated in the above paragraph, the Factor shall be entitled, as soon as it gains knowledge of any of the circumstances referred to in the above paragraph of this article, to demand from the Supplier to repay directly to the Factor any amount received from the Factor (both the advance and any other amounts) in relation to the contested receivable or the receivable for which warranties were reduced, which shall include unconditional repayment of the paid advance increased by regular contracted interest (unless already charged earlier at the payment of advance) from the advance payment date to the due date of the factored receivable, increased by default interest from the due date of the factored receivable to the date of full collection by the Supplier, and other associated expenses increased by default interest from the date of occurrence of the expenses to the date of full collection, while the Factor shall not be required to repay the received factoring fee or factoring interest or other expenses, and the Supplier shall forthwith and without delay act upon such demand.
- 7.4. The Supplier shall take all actions necessary to reach an agreement with the Buyer and any third party within 30 days since the due date of the factored receivable at the latest in such way that the contested amount receivable within the factored receivable is fully paid to the Factor within such term.
- 7.5. If the receivable is not fully paid to the Factor even after 30 days, provided that the Supplier has in due time delivered written notice to the Factor regarding the circumstances referred to in paragraph 2 of this article, the Factor shall be entitled to demand from the Supplier to repay directly to the Factor any amount received from the Factor (both the advance and any other amounts) in relation to the contested receivable or the receivable for which warranties were reduced, which shall include unconditional repayment of the paid advance increased by regular contracted interest (unless already charged earlier at the payment of advance) from the advance payment date to the due date of the factored receivable, increased by default interest from the due date of the factored receivable to the date of full collection by the Supplier, and other associated expenses increased by default interest from the date of occurrence of the expenses to the date of full collection, while the Factor shall not be required to repay the received factoring fee or factoring interest or other expenses, and the Supplier shall forthwith and without delay act upon the demand above.

- 7.6. The Factor shall, upon receipt of the amount referred to in paragraph 3 or 4, respectively, of this article, regardless on what basis it was received, reassign such assigned receivable to the Supplier.
- 7.7. If it is established that the default risk should not have passed to the Factor or it is later established that an individual guarantee or obligation of the Supplier ceased to exist, then the Factor shall be entitled to collect any amounts paid based on such receivable.
- 18.3. The Factor shall be authorised and may at any time assign/transfer/sell all or any of its receivables under the Contract or contracts connected therewith, as well as (all or any) associated their-party collaterals, regardless of any court proceeding or other forced collection proceeding instigated or pending.
